The past year has been a good one for Bos Design Builders. We want to thank our many individual customers and corporate clients as well as our loyal subcontractors and vendors for making it possible. Our dad, Harry, has always said that planning and putting up a new home or building should be an exciting and rewarding experience for all parties involved. This has especially been the case in 2008 as we've had the opportunity to build a wide assortment of unique buildings for a wide range of uses. More importantly we've met a lot of great people and strengthened many long term relationships.

We would especially like to thank Erik and Corina Anderson of Whitewater, Judy and Scott Fernhaber of Jefferson and Kristin Kerschensteiner and Wyc Martin of Fort Atkinson for giving us the honor of building new homes or home additions for them. The Anderson's have arguably built one of the most contemporary and green homes in Jefferson County. The Fernhaber's were flooded out this summer but we had them celebrating Thanksgiving in their new home. The Kerschensteiner - Martin's gave us the unique opportunity to add on to one of the landmark homes in the Fort Atkinson area and to build a timber frame barn imported from Washington State.

The coming year is shaping up to be a very strong one. We hope that our continued emphasis on high standards of quality, integrity, excellent project control and long lasting client relationships will serve us well as we head into our 48th year in business.

Thank you,

Edwin & Harman Bos
